General Price List of Goods and Services

Effective January 1, 2018

The funeral service is a special tribute to a unique life. Equally important, it helps survivors—family and friends—face the reality of death....the first big step toward overcoming grief. It can bring together close friends and relatives who may lend support and consolation when they are needed most.

Our staff can help by taking care of the many details that must be handled after death occurs. We will also work to accommodate any special request that might add meaning or comfort to the service and help the family to face the future with renewed strength.

The goods and services shown herein are those we can provide to our customers. You may choose only those items you desire. However, any funeral arrangements you select will include a charge for our basic services and overhead which you may not be able to decline. If legal or other requirements mean you must buy any items you did not specifically ask for, we will explain the reason, in writing, on the statement that we provide describing the funeral goods and services you selected.

This list does not include prices for certain items that you may ask us to buy for you, such as cemetery services, flowers, registrar fees, certified copies of the death certificate, clergy honorariums and newspaper notices. The prices for those items will be shown on your bill or statement describing the funeral goods and services you selected. Out-of-town transportation is additional. All prices are subject to change without notice.

Prior to drafting any contract for goods or services, the responsible party or the decedent's survivor who is handling the funeral arrangements is entitled to receive a copy of any preneed agreement in the possession of the funeral establishment that has been signed and paid for, in full or in part, by or on behalf of the decedent.
