

Betty Jean Bentley

September 28, 1936 - July 22, 2021

Betty Jean Bentley was born to David Loyal "Jake" Snow and Pansy Myrtle Taylor September 28th, 1936 in Lindsay, Oklahoma and passed away at the age of 84 on July 22, 2021.

Her family moved to Arizona and then San Joaquin Valley, California when she was a child. Her family picked cotton and lived in tents for a while. On November 10th, 1954, she married Virgil Ray Bentley and the couple was married for 43 years, until he passed. She worked at American Rubber Company in Emeryville for 30 years, and lived in San Leandro, Tracy, and Pinole until she and her husband retired and moved to Callahan, California in the mountains.

Her husband, Virgil Bentley, preceded her in death. After his death, she graciously shared her home with her brother, Tyrone Snow, and her sister, Margie Bentley.

She is survived by her sister Margie Bentley, two nephews, Sam Stewart and Ty Snow and two nieces, Toisann Snow and Teresa Nations.

She loved traveling to visit family and spending time with her sister Margie, who has always been very close to her. The two lived together for the last 20 plus years. Her sister was married to her husband's brother. The couples shared many good times together over the years in the Bay Area and in the mountains. They loved taking drives through the mountains together, stopping to take in the views. She was a woman of God with a loving heart and giving spirit. All her family knew they were loved by her.

She will be buried on the hill at Fort Jones Cemetery.
