“ Mom....It has been a few months since you left us. I know you are not in pain and your body will be restored. We all miss you so much. Your spunk, laugh and kindness will never be forgotten. Dad has gone on to join you. We are now missing you both. This will become our new normal. I miss our daily phone calls, and then there were Dad's daily call, You were right when you said Dad would be devastated.
I love and miss you both...until we meet again
