

Darrell Edward Morris

November 4, 1949 - November 21, 2021

Darrell Edward Morris passed away at the age of 72. He had severe dementia, but that didn't stop him from doing things he loved. A few of those things included taking his dog, Oreo, for bike rides, watering or sitting outside in his garage listening to music, watching sports or westerns, and going for scenic drives.

He enjoyed landscaping all throughout his life as he did so many jobs that were bare and ugly and he turned them into beautiful properties. Whenever we were out driving, he would always point out the yards he worked on and stories that went along with them. Darrell got me into sports at a young age and enjoyed watching me and other people play those sports.

Darrell had a stubborn character, so if he wanted to do something or had an idea, he did it. In his house he had me set up all the pictures we had on all the walls in the house. He had me install shelves on the walls so he could put up even more. He loved his pictures.

I remember every Saturday when I took him to the store he always got sausage, mashed potatoes, and chicken for the dog. He liked his mashed potatoes and I believe that was one of the only things he ate. Even though me and my dad had a rough past, I loved him with all my heart and always enjoyed making him happy by taking him to the store and for drives, even though his dementia made it annoying sometimes, but it wasn't his fault.

I love you Dad and I'm gonna miss you. So will a lot of other people you made happy in life. That's why I love making others so happy, it's what you did.
