

Deborah Christine Krieger

April 15, 1952 - July 26, 2021

Deborah Christine Krieger, passed away of natural causes in her warm, cozy home in Yreka on July 26, 2021, at the age of 69. She was born on April 15, 1952, in New York State to Duke and Nora Duclos. She was raised in Redding and married her high school sweetheart, Bradley Giorgi. She gave birth to two children, Christopher and Jacob.

After 9 years of marriage, she suffered a divorce. Deborah was courageous enough to raise two boys on her own until she met her soulmate, David Krieger. They were married in 1989 and recently celebrated their 32nd anniversary.

She graduated with a bachelor's degree from College of the Siskiyous and enjoyed a wonderful teaching career. Deborah was a loving wife, an attentive mother, and a passionate educator to children of all ages. She loved Jesus. She loved her dogs. She loved spending time with her grandchildren.

She spread the gospel, instructed classrooms, planted flowers, and cheered at her son's sporting events. Deborah wore a friendly smile wherever she went, and enjoyed working hard to live her dreams. She happily owned and operated Old Town bakery in downtown Yreka. Debbie loved to share her time and cooking skills with friends old and new. She was adored by many and will be greatly missed.

“ Debbie was my cousin, one of my childhood playmates and friend! She was born in April and I was born in December of the same year. We were caked Debbie #1 and Debbie #2 bc that's how our family called us out when we were together. Love that she is with our Jesus for all eternity. I will see you sometime when my day comes my sister cousin. Love, Debbie #2 Deborah Austin (Wuest)
