

Edward Maynard Schalow

June 4, 1921 - July 13, 2010

Edward Maynard Schalow, age 89, of Hornbrook, California, passed on Tuesday, July 13, 2010. He was a loving husband, father, grandfather and great grandfather.

Mr. Schalow grew up in Chico, California. He graduated from Chico High School and played football for Chico State College and the University of Southern California. Early on in his life he worked for the California Conservation Corps and logged in the Siskiyou mountains where he fell in love with the area. Although he spent many years in different parts of the Country including Orange County, California, he always knew he would return to Siskiyou County.

He served in the United States Army during World War II and was a successful entrepreneur in various industries such as sports entertainment, trucking, jewelry, property development and real estate investment. He was a hard worker and very inventive. He started the first truck driving school in California.

An avid athlete and life long fitness enthusiast he continued to compete and win awards in various running events including several Senior Olympics. He was also a Golden Glove boxer and promoted the sport for many years.

Mr. Schalow is survived and will be missed by his daughter, Carrie James, sons Richard and Edward Schalow, grandchildren; Tiffany Collins, Travis Tate, Jason Schalow, Garrett James, Jennifer Tores, Jody DeBortoli, Joshua Schalow, Jamie Schalow, Jessie Schalow, Michael Schalow and Mary Schalow; and great grandchildren; Christian Collins, Oliver Collins, Emma Torres and Kaylynn DeBortoli.

Memorial services will be held in Girdner Funeral Chapel on Saturday, July 24, 2010 at 11:00 a.m. Inurnment will be in the Henley-Hornbrook Cemetery in Hornbrook.
