

Jean DeDobbeleer

December 17, 2011

Jean DeDobbeleer peacefully passed away on December 17, 2011 with her family in attendance.

Jean and her late husband John moved to Etna in 2001. She loved the valley and made many good friends here. John and Jean had a long and good life together, especially enjoying extensive traveling in their later years. They lived in New Zealand for seven years after retiring. When the grandchildren began they returned to the states, but continued to travel and live in many different areas.

Jean is survived by three children and their spouses, Patricia Craig and husband, Robert, son, Don DeDobbeleer and wife, Maxine and Susan Swicegood and husband, Rick; seven grandchildren and eight great grandchildren.

Girdner Funeral Chapel is assisting the family.
