October 3, 1930 - November 28, 2012

Kenneth L. Saxton passed away on Nov. 28, 2012. He was born to Robert and Edith Saxton on Oct. 3, 1930.

Ken spent most of his life in and around the San Diego area until 1970, when he came to Siskiyou County on business and met and married Bobbie (Bowman) Struble. Although they divorced years ago, they remained friends throughout his life.

Ken enjoyed numerous hobbies and interests. Among his favorites was his love for music. He had a wonderful voice and he played several musical instruments. His favorite was the piano. He was also the music director for the Baptist Church for a time.

He was happiest when he was outside, be it fishing with his grandson, refinishing furniture or working outside. He was always working on a project. He will be sorely missed by his family and friends.

He leaves his brother Wilbur (Caroline) Saxton; his daughters Marla Aber of Napa, Calif. and Kristy Mediena of San Diego, Calif.; his son Mike Roznos; his daughter in heart Melody (Ron) Hess of Montague; stepsons Charles (Joann) Criss of Klamath Falls, Ore., Ted (Elaine) Walton of Yreka and Sheldon (Decca) Criss of McCloud; his grandchildren Travis, Tyler, Kyle, DJ, Rachel, Bo, Shannon, Jessica and Chas; his great-grandchildren Ryder, Ronin, Adam, Mari and Alyissa; his nieces Beth, Connie and Kathy; and his nephew Walter. He was preceded in death by his parents and his brother Donald.
