64 year old Montague resident, Lisa Miller, passed away in her sleep at her home on Thursday, October 8, 2020.

Lisa was born in Chelsea, Massachusetts to Richard and Gertrude Wagner on May 24, 1956. She spent her high school years in Southern California, and graduated from Los Amigos High School in Orange County. She worked for 3M Company, in their medical division, for 12 years, but spent most of her life as a mom and housekeeper. In 2007 she fought a battle with breast cancer stage 4, beat it, and remained cancer free. Lisa moved to Montague in 2015 after spending 40 years in Costa Mesa .

Lisa married David Miller on July 3, 1985. She had the ultimate devotion to her husband. Together, they created a marriage that could see in both the light and in the dark. Though Lisa has gone to rest, David's devotion to her continues.

Lisa loved life in Costa Mesa. She enjoyed the sun and the beach, tanning, and sailing on their sailboat throughout the waters of Southern California. Lisa liked to have her hair curled, to go dancing and listening to music. She used to sing the "Hit List" from the 80's while dancing and being productive around the house. She always had a way of making things fun; whether it was cleaning the yard, or washing the dishes, she would always say: "Put on the music!"

She was loved by many. She was a social person with a goofy laugh. She was known for her honesty and integrity, and for being a beautiful person. Lisa was always gardening, renowned for her flowers. She collected pig trinkets and always had a closet full of shoes.

Lisa leaves behind her husband of 35 years, David Miller; Kimber-Lee Miller is Lisa's oldest child, and her only daughter. She resembles her mom's laugh and her love for life. Samuel Bryant Miller is Lisa's youngest child. Sam also has the famous laugh of Lisa, and also just as much unconditional love for animals.
