“ Patty used to love animals. She had an iguana. She loved her baby girls too. She used to scratch Sierra her granddaughters back. She could crochet. She made Sierra a blanket and Sierra still sleeps with it. She was a good mom and she never gave up on her kids or grandchildren no matter the task Patty had your back. She once slapped me in the face lol. I love you lady. I see why you were upset and I'm sorry we weren't there more. Please rest easy and know that Sierra and Brockton love you so much. I will keep your memories alive forever Patty I'm sorry love I didn't know you were sick. Rest easy momma! We love you.
