“ Where should I begin with my friend Wayne? We were in scuba diving school in 1960,we both completed our training,but onthe first dive,about 60ft. down ,waynes mask was full of blood! well we didn't panic,made it to the surface ok.well ,being with wayne was never dull.now let's see;we went shooting in nevada (car broke down in carson city),boating and hiking at fallen leaf lake area ,traveled southern ca areasurfing san diego(a ticket for2 surfboards out the windows of 64 mustang),a warning for sleeping on the beach in santa barbra.we were unable to find a place to stay, it waslate and we had just witnessed ,close up the watts riots of1968,LA on fire! i could go on, but like i said, hanging outwith wayne was never boring.I have not seen wayne much over the years but he did drop in my place of business a while back, I was glad to see him and i know he was havingmore than his share of problems.but, for me personally,wayne was a trusted and fun to be with traveling companion,a really good friend. my condolences to the entire family.

“ I met Wayne in Okinawa in 1969 through his roommate Tom Busalacchi. We were all Loadmasters in different squadrons. When we were not flying we would hang out in their room. This is when I found out that he also lived in Sacramento. When a typhoon was heading toward the island we all gathered in their room since it was an end room next to an exit door. Wayne and Tom had a generator and placed it just outside the exit door with an extension cord to the room so we were one of the few if any to have power so we could have light and music and hot k-rations warmed up on their electric burner. The Air Force sent Wayne home early and without notice when his Mother passed away. The next year when I was discharged I looked Wayne up, he invited me over to his family's home to meet his Father and younger siblings and to sit down to dinner with them. I last saw Wayne when I went to visit his office on Cadillac Dr.. I still have his business card. My condolences go out to his family. Rest in peace Airman! I was fortunate to know him and call him my friend.

“ I grew up around the corner from Wayne and on his 16th birthday he drove his Dad's Buick, which was big as Manhattan, to my house and parked in the driveway. 1/2 block = 1 wreck. He ran into the tree next to our driveway. Many great memories of Wayne and the "Hood". Condolences to all the W's in the White Family. Phil Vercruyssen

“ I have a lot of happy memories of my big brother. I enjoyed him helping me with sports, swimming, diving, hunting and fishing. I will never forget when you were reloading your ammo and you accidentally had an explosion in Dad's garage. You blew holes in the roof and blew out all the windows in the car. Our Dad was pretty pissed. Our memories will always be with me.

“ A happy memory of my Uncle Wayne - When we lived in Sacramento on Peacock Way, we had a huge back yard with many sprinklers. Wayne would bet me that I couldn't run across the yard without getting hit by the sprinkler. He was right. I could NEVER make it across without getting hit. I remember he and I were laughing really hard. It is a wonderful memory for me. Rest in peace, Uncle Wayne.
